

We use the past perfect continuous for actions which start in the past and were still going on, when another action started in the past. It's formed from: Had been + verb + -ing, e.g. I had been going to church for five years when my wife died.

We use used to for past situations and repeated actions which do not now exist- e.g. She used to go to church.

We use would for past repeated actions which no longer happen- e.g. My dad would wash the car and go to church each Sunday morning.

Now read through Mark 5, and underline each example of the different tenses, adding letters next to them as follows:

The present simple: 'PS'

The present continuous : 'PC'

The past simple : 'PAS'

The past continuous : 'PAC'

The present perfect simple : 'PPS'

The present perfect continuous: 'PPC'

The past perfect simple: 'PAPS'

The past perfect continuous : 'PAPC'

Used to: 'U'

Would: 'W'

